MEMO FOR: [REDACTED]SUBJECT: Map #54290, Colombia Petroleum Concessions,
January 1964

1. I find it very difficult to distinguish between several of the colors used on this map to indicate petroleum concessions. I am at a complete loss to determine the ownership of the area which I have circled, which area is overlain with 2 colors. I am not sure of the 2 colors used and cannot match them with colors in the legend box.

2. I would think by this time that we have had enough experience in the utilization of colors to make sure there was no trouble with identification of area by color -- especially the carryover of the color in one's mind from the legend box to the area on the map. In summary, I feel that we should make every effort to have enough differences between colors used -- perhaps in combination with patterns of some sort -- so that there will be absolutely no question about the readability of the map.
